Re: Jordan Tepper Weiner and Terri P. Tepper v. Oppenheimer & Co., Inc., FINRA#24-02286

Dear Mr. Ordower,

I am writing this letter in response to Claimants' most recent filing on the FINRA portal requesting the issuance of a subpoena for discover materials. The facts stated in Claimants' reasoning for demanding a subpoena are clearly false. Respondent did receive Claimants' request for discovery on February 19th, and has been diligently working to prepare it. Claimants' gave Respondent 20 days to comply. 20 days from February 19th would be March 10th, the window has not expired as Claimants erroneously state in their Motion. Further, Respondent did not file any Motion to Compel Discovery. Respondent simply served its first Request for Production, as Respondent is entitled to do so, by uploading it to the FINRA Portal.

Further, Claimants' refusal to sign the standard Confidentiality Agreement meant to protect private information of both parties. Oppenheimer will not be producing any information without this agreement.

Given the severity of the situation, Respondent would like to request a conference with all parties as soon as possible.

Sincerely,

/s/ John T. McGuire
